DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: After-final amendment filed on 08/17/05.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-17, 33-36, and 40-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shaffer et. US# 2004/0199506 A1 in view of Mehldahl, US# 2005/0055289 A1.

As per claims 1, 9 Shaffer et al. teaches "one or more reference records within the reference record databases, each reference record providing an association between business information and spatial data for a specific channel participant" (see paragraphs [0061], [0146], and [0240]) "transaction data related to at least one channel participant . . . accessing one or more candidate reference records using spatial and business data . . ." (see paragraphs [0061] and [0116]) "a spatial matching mechanism for matching a subset of the candidate reference records to the transaction data" (see paragraphs [0061] and [0149] and [0064]). Shaffer et al. does not explicitly teach "a candidate identification . . . more than one candidate reference record from one of the reference record databases . . .". Mehldahl teaches "a candidate identification . . . more than one candidate reference record from one of the reference record databases . . .”.

It would have been obvious at the time of the invention for one of ordinary skill in the art to have combined the teachings of Shaffer and Mehldahl, because using the steps of “a candidate identification . . . more than one candidate reference record from one of the reference record databases . . .”, would have given those skilled in the art the tools to associate reference data with a identification element. This gives users the advantage of process business data more efficiently.

As per claim 2, Shaffer et al. teaches “a consumer of the product who receives the product from the distribution channel” (see paragraphs [0064] and [0122]).

As per claims 3-4, Shaffer et al. teaches “a producer of the product who places the product in the distribution channel” (see paragraphs [0046] and [0115]).

As per claim 5, Shaffer et al. teaches “a reseller such as a dealer, agent, branch and the like” (see paragraphs [0122]).

As per claims 6-7, Shaffer et al. teaches “a geo-coding mechanism operable to determine street-level spatial data from the transaction data” (see paragraphs [0061] and [0116]).

As per claim 8, Shaffer et al. teaches “determines location information from the transaction data” (see paragraph [0116]).

As per claims 10-12, Shaffer et al. teaches “a reference identifier identifying the channel participant; a business name; and spatial information with predetermined accuracy” (see paragraphs [0146]-[0149]).

As per claims 13-15, Shaffer et al. teaches "a lexical matching process operable to correlate non-spatial data in the transaction record with non-spatial data in the candidate reference records . . ." (see paragraphs [0061] and [0116]).

As per claims 16-17, Shaffer et al. teaches a selection process operable to select a candidate reference record based on the generated score exceed a pre-selected threshold vale . . ." (see paragraphs [0120], [0122] and [0182]).

As per claims 33-34, this claim is rejected on grounds corresponding to the arguments given above for rejected clam 1 and is similarly rejected including the following:

--Shaffer et al. teaches "geo-coding location data within the transaction record to determine a spatial identifier . . ." (see paragraphs [00061] and [0182]).

As per claim 35, this claim is rejected on grounds corresponding to the arguments given above for rejected claims 13-14 and are similarly rejected.

As per claim 36, this claim is rejected on grounds corresponding to the arguments given above for rejected claims 10-11 and are similarly rejected.

As per claims 40-41, these claims are rejected on grounds corresponding to the arguments given above for rejected claim 1 and are similarly rejected, Shaffer et al. does not explicitly teach "a learning." Mehlidahl teaches "a learning database" (see paragraph [0008]-[0009] and [0059]). It would have been obvious at the time of the invention for one of ordinary skill in the art the ability to implement a database (i.e. Learning database) to track and associate transactions which is implied in applicant's claim language. This gives users the ability to process transaction data in a database environment faster.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-17, 33-36, and 40-41, have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
